

What Bugs You?

Earth to Student: On each bug write something that “bugs” you about the way your fellow earthlings treat planet Earth. How about things that need to be improved around home and school? The first step in problem solving is identifying the problem.

